Work Learn International Undergraduate Research Awards (WL IURA)
Summer 2022 | Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

- What will the WL IURA program look like for Summer 2022 term?

The WL IURA program will proceed and the full value of the award ($6000) will be provided ($8000 for Faculty of Arts), even in the event of a shortened work term. WL IURA positions may proceed with specific accommodations for remote work, where possible, and/or shortened work terms. Shortened work terms may be less than 12 consecutive weeks.

For faculty members who intend to submit a WL IURA research project proposal, please ensure that COVID-19 safety measures and considerations as well as contingency plans are included when submitting their application. Questions for consideration: Will the project be feasible given the COVID-19 safety plans as per their Faculty/School/department? Can the project be done safely?

- Does Workday take into account the benefits (CPP, EI, WCB) in the student’s monthly wage?

Yes. Workday will automatically charge the benefits (CPP, EI, WCB) to the cost center assigned.

- Can research projects continue in Summer 2022?

Yes. At this time, we continue to follow UBC HR’s COVID-19 action plan – while the situation is ever changing, we will continue to allow for remote work opportunities, as well as hybrid work models and on-site work (so long as they follow the Safety and Risk Services COVID Safety Plans).

This means that research projects can still take place in summer 2022 - if there are any major updates, we will be sure to communicate with our Faculty/School Coordinators and to update our website as soon as possible.

Can research projects still take place remotely?

Yes. Students and supervisors can pursue a remote research project full-time for summer 2022. There are specific restrictions to where students are residing for the summer months, in order for the student to conduct research projects remotely (please see the next FAQ).

Proposed research projects that cannot be carried out remotely (e.g. lab work) can be modified to something that is suitable for remote work (e.g. analysis of existing data, literature reviews). Supervision is expected to occur via video chats, telecons, and email. Please contact worklearn.iura@ubc.ca if the proposed research project changes significantly from the initial proposal before the start of the term.

Please refer to UBC’s Telecommunicating Checklist and UBC IT’s online guide to working remotely. The guide outlines resources when working remotely, including: how to access emails and files, tools for virtual meetings, and security requirements. When considering the use of personal devices, it is important to ensure that security and privacy requirements are met.

- Where may students live while working on remote research projects as part of the WL IURA program?

WL IURA students are permitted to work remotely, in Canada, from a different province or territory. Those students who will be working remotely outside of BC must be registered as a worker in the province or territory where the work will take place. To do so, your HR Advisor/Department should alert UBC’s WSBC Claims Associate Aidan Gregory by email at aidan.gregory@ubc.ca. If students are residing outside of Canada, they will not generally be eligible to work remotely, as part of WL IURA. Please contact worklearn.iura@ubc.ca in these circumstances.

For more information, please refer to UBC HR’s guidance here.

- Is a shortened work term permitted?

Yes. A shortened work term (less than 12 weeks full-time) is permitted. Regardless of the duration of the work term, the full value of the award ($6000) will be honoured ($8000 for Faculty of Arts).

For the student’s salary, BC’s minimum wage requirements must be met. The minimum wage in BC is currently $15.20 per hour. Note: On June 1, 2022, BC minimum wage will increase from $15.20/hour to $15.65/hour. For example, if the student is doing a 16-week work-term from May 2 – Aug 19, 2022, the minimum wage will be $8,931.83 (incl. 4% vacation pay); The minimum top-up from the supervisor is $2,931.83.
